11
12 CITY OF SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO

13 BILL NO. 2025-21

14 INTRODUCED BY:

15
16 Mayor Alan Webber

17 AMENDMENT D – BLUE – Councilor Faulkner

18
19 A BILL

20 AMENDING SFCC 1987, SECTION 28-1.5 (“LIVING WAGE ORDINANCE”), TO 21 INCREASE THE CITY’S BASE MINIMUM WAGE AND UPDATE THE FORMULA FOR 22 CALCULATING THE MINIMUM WAGE ANNUALLY.

23 BE IT ORDAINED BY THE GOVERNING BODY OF THE CITY OF SANTA FE:

24 Section 1. Section 28-1.1 of SFCC 1987 (being Ord. No. 2002-13, § 1) is included 25 for reference without amendments:

1 28-1.1 Short title.

2 This section may be cited as the "Living Wage Ordinance".

3 Section 2. Section 28-1.2 of SFCC 1987 (being Ord. No. 2007-43, § 1) is amended 4 to read as follows:

5 28-1.2 Legislative findings.

6 A. The governing body of the city [~~has determined that~~] made findings in 2002, 7 amended in 2003, and then amended again in 2007 as follows:

8 [A] (1). The public welfare, health, safety and prosperity of Santa Fe require 9 wages and benefits sufficient to ensure a decent and healthy life for 10 workers and their families;

11 [B] (2). Many Santa Fe workers earn wages insufficient to support 12 themselves and their families;

13 [C] (3). Many Santa Fe workers cannot participate in civic life or pursue 14 educational, cultural, and recreational opportunities because they must 15 work such long hours to meet their households' most basic needs;

16 [D] (4). Minimum wage laws promote the general welfare, health, safety and 17 prosperity of Santa Fe by ensuring that workers can better support and 18 care for their families through their own efforts and without financial 19 governmental assistance;

20 [E] (5). The average earnings per job in Santa Fe County is twenty-three 21 percent (23%) below the national average and the cost of living is 22 eighteen percent (18%) higher than the national average;

23 [F] (6). Housing costs in Santa Fe are much higher than in most other parts of 24 New Mexico, and low income workers must therefore spend a 25 disproportionate percentage of their income sheltering themselves and 1 their families;

2 [G] (7). Livable wages also benefit employers and the economy as a whole by 3 improving employee performance, reducing employee turnover, 4 lowering absenteeism, and thereby improving productivity and the 5 quality of the services provided by employees;

6 [H] (8). When businesses do not pay a livable wage, the community bears the 7 cost in the form of increased demand for taxpayer-funded social 8 services including homeless shelters, soup kitchens and healthcare for 9 the uninsured. Coupled with high real estate values, low wages reduce 10 the ability of low- and moderate-income residents to access affordable 11 housing. As a result, the city has had to invest significant tax dollars to 12 support affordable housing including funding to nonprofit 13 organizations, purchasing land, building infrastructure and waiving 14 fees. In addition, the city has allocated significant tax dollars to operate 15 after school and summer recreation programs and to support nonprofit 16 organizations offering an array of human services and children and 17 youth services, all of which are needed by very low-income residents 18 and their families;

19 [I] (9). It is in the public interest to require certain employers benefiting from 20 city actions and funding, and from the opportunity to do business in the 21 city, to pay employees a minimum wage, a "living wage", adequate to 22 meet the basic needs of living in Santa Fe;

23 [J] (10). According to the 2000 Census, approximately twelve and three-tenths 24 percent (12.3%) of the Santa Fe community lives below the poverty 25 level; and

1 ~~[K]~~ (11). According to the New Mexico department of labor, twenty-three and 2 one-half percent (23.5%) of Santa Feans who are employed in the 3 nongovernmental sector earn hourly wages of ten dollars and fifty cents 4 ($10.50) per hour or less.

5 ~~[E]~~ (12). The governing body has reviewed the impact of previous minimum 6 wage increases, relevant studies and other appropriate data, and finds 7 that the city's minimum wage should be upwardly adjusted each year to 8 keep pace with increases in the cost of living.

9 ~~[M]~~ (13). The governing body has found that limiting coverage of the minimum 10 wage just to businesses with twenty-five (25) or more employees has 11 hindered compliance and has created an uneven playing field among 12 local businesses.

13 B. In 2025, the governing body of the city finds as follows:

14 (1) The legislative findings in SFCC 1987, Section 28-1.2, numbered 1 through 15 4, 6 through 8, 12, and 13 remain relevant today.

16 (2) Updating the legislative findings in SFCC 1987, Section 28-1.2, numbered 17 5 and 9 results as follows:

18 i. The average earnings per job in Santa Fe County are twelve 19 percent (12%) below the national average.

20 ii. According to the 2023 Census, approximately twelve and two-21 tenths percent (12.2%) of the Santa Fe community lives below the 22 poverty level.

23 (3) According to American Community Survey data, median gross rent for 24 occupied units paying rent in the city of Santa Fe increased by twenty eight 25 percent (28%) between 2015 and 2021, rising from $970 to $1,245.

1 (4) The city has implemented, or attempted to implement, numerous strategies 2 to address housing affordability, including, but not limited to, the Santa Fe 3 Homes Program, Low Priced Dwelling Units, Affordable Housing Trust 4 Fund, three percent (3%) High-End Excise Tax for Affordable Housing, and 5 donation of City-owned land.

6 Section 3. Section 28-1.3 of SFCC 1987 (being Ord. No. 2003-8, § 2) is included 7 for reference without amendments:

8 28-1.3 Authority of the city of Santa Fe.

9 This Living Wage Ordinance is adopted pursuant to the general welfare and police powers 10 conferred upon the city of Santa Fe by Section 3-17-1 et seq. and Section 3-18-1 et seq. NMSA 11 1978, pursuant to the powers conferred upon the city of Santa Fe by New Mexico Constitution, 12 Article X §§ 6(D) and 6(E) and the Municipal Charter Act Section 3-15-1 et seq. NMSA 1978, 13 which have been exercised by the city's adoption of its "Santa Fe Municipal Charter".

14 Section 4. Section 28-1.4 of SFCC 1987 (being Ord. No. 2003-8, § 3) is included 15 for reference without amendments:

16 28-1.4 Purpose.

17 The purposes of this section are:

18 A. To have the city of Santa Fe set an example for the public and private sectors by 19 paying its employees a minimum wage adequate to meet the basic needs of living in Santa Fe.

20 B. To raise the income of low-income employees of employers who contract with the 21 city, receive grants, subsidies or other benefits from the city or benefit from the opportunity to do 22 business in Santa Fe.

23 Section 5. Section 28-1.5 of SFCC 1987 (being Ord. No. 2007-43, § 2) is amended 24 to read as follows:

25 28-1.5 Minimum wage payment requirements.

1 A. The following entities shall pay the minimum wage:

2 (1) The city of Santa Fe to all full-time permanent workers employed by the 3 city. However, the provisions of this section are expressly limited by and subject 4 to future union negotiations in compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act and 5 subsequent appropriations by the governing body in compliance with the Bateman 6 Act;

7 (2) Contractors for the city, that have a contract requiring the performance of 8 a service including construction services but excluding purchases of goods, shall 9 pay the minimum wage to their workers and subcontractors performing work under 10 the contract if the total contract amount with the city is, or by way of amendment 11 becomes, equal to or greater than thirty thousand dollars ($30,000.00); and 12 (3) Businesses receiving assistance relating to economic development in the 13 form of grants, subsidies, loan guarantees or industrial revenue bonds in excess of 14 twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) to those employed by such entity for the 15 duration of the city grant or subsidy; and 16 (4) Businesses required to have a business license or business registration 17 from the city of Santa Fe and nonprofit organizations shall pay the minimum wage 18 to their workers for all hours worked within the city of Santa Fe that month. For 19 purposes of this paragraph, worker shall not include any person who is related by 20 blood or by marriage to any person who may have or possess any ownership 21 interest in the business that employs them. For purposes of identifying persons 22 entitled to be paid the minimum wage, all individuals employed by or providing 23 work to the business for compensation, whether on a part-time, full-time or 24 temporary basis, during a given month shall be counted as a worker. This definition 25 shall include contingent or contracted workers, and persons made available to work

1 through the services of a temporary service, staffing or employment agency or 2 similar entity. However, interns working for a business for academic credit in 3 connection with a course of study at an accredited school, college or university or 4 persons working for an accredited school, college or university while also 5 attending that school, college or university, or persons working for a business in 6 connection with a court-ordered community service program such as teen court or 7 workers who are in an apprenticeship program in a 501C(3) organization (such as 8 the Santa Fe opera) shall not be counted as a worker for such purposes.

9 B. Beginning January 1, 2004, the minimum wage shall be an hourly rate of eight 10 dollars and fifty cents ($8.50). In computing the wage paid for purposes of determining compliance 11 with the minimum wage, the value of health benefits and childcare shall be considered as an 12 element of wages. On January 1, 2006, the minimum wage shall be increased to an hourly rate of 13 nine dollars and fifty cents ($9.50). Beginning January 1, 2009, and each year thereafter, the 14 minimum wage shall be adjusted upward by an amount corresponding to the previous year's 15 increase, if any, in the consumer price index for the western region for urban wage earners and 16 clerical workers.

17 C. Beginning January 1, 2027, the minimum wage shall be an hourly rate of seventeen 18 dollars and fifty cents ($17.50), other than for employees of entities with fifteen or fewer 19 employees, which shall continue to have the minimum wage described in Paragraph B. In 20 computing the wage paid for purposes of determining compliance with the minimum wage, the 21 value of health benefits and childcare shall be considered as an element of wages. On March 1, 22 2028, the minimum wage shall be increased by the average of the annual increase of the following 23 two factors:

- 24 (1) the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumer Price Index for All Urban 25 Consumers, the Western Region, as published by the United States Bureau of Labor

1 Statistics (“Western Region CPI-U”); and 2 (2) Fair Market Rent (“FMR”)for a two-bedroom unit in Santa Fe, New Mexico, as 3 published annually by the United States Department of Urban Development (“HUD”).
4 If either factor is unchanged or decreases, then the minimum wage shall increase by a rate that is 5 equal to half the percent increase of the other factor. If both factors are unchanged or decrease, then 6 the minimum wage shall remain the same. In other words, the annual increase to the minimum 7 wage shall be calculated as follows: annual increase = 0.50 (annual percent increase (if there is 8 one) to Western Region CPI-U) + 0.50 (annual percent increase (if there is one) to the HUD’s FMR 9 for a two- bedroom unit in Santa Fe). Increases to the minimum wage rate shall not exceed five 10 percent and the minimum wage shall not decrease.

11 [~~C~~] D. For workers who customarily receive more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) per 12 month in tips or commissions, any tips or commissions received and retained by a worker shall be 13 counted as wages and credited toward[s] satisfaction of the minimum wage provided that, for tipped 14 workers, all tips received by such workers are retained by the workers, except that the pooling of 15 tips among workers shall be permitted.

16 [~~D~~] E. Nonprofit organizations whose primary source of funds is from Medicaid waivers 17 are exempt.

18 [~~E.~~—~~Staff shall contract for a study or studies to review the impact of changes made to~~ 19 ~~the Living Wage Ordinance approved as Ordinance No. 2007-43 on businesses of less than ten (10)~~ 20 ~~employees and on the student drop-out rate. The study shall be presented to the governing body no~~ 21 ~~later than July 1, 2009.]~~

23 for reference without amendments:

24 28-1.6 Prohibitions against retaliation and circumvention.

25 A. It shall be unlawful for any employer or employer's agent or representative to take 1 any action against an individual in retaliation for the exercise of or communication of information 2 regarding rights under this section. This section shall also apply to any individual that mistakenly, 3 but in good faith, alleges noncompliance with this section.

23 the city manager may issue orders to the employer appropriate to effectuate the complaining 24 person's rights, including but not limited to back pay and reinstatement. The city manager also has
